[AD- Student Code of Conduct]

Purpose

This Student Code of Conduct Policy (the “policy”) sets out and defines the standard of conduct expected of all students while enrolled at Yorkville University and Toronto Film School, and their affiliates, (collectively, “Yorkville”). Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the educational objectives of the school/University in accordance with generally accepted standards of behavior, and in accordance with other published TFS policies.

Audience

This policy applies to:

- All students studying at any Toronto Film School location or Toronto Film School Online.
- Student conduct on any Toronto Film School campus.
- Student conduct off-campus when:
 - Students attend an off-campus activity or event as part of a course or an organized class activity.
 - Students participate in an off-campus activity that is organized and/or sanctioned by the School.
 - Students are representatives or delegates of the School at an off-campus activity, event, or function.

The conduct, regardless of where it occurs, may adversely affect teaching and learning or the functioning of the School or may damage the reputation of the School.

- Student conduct via telephone, text-messaging, computer, or other electronic device using email, internet, intranet, social media, teleconferencing software and other forms of technology, etc.

Definitions

Campus Principal refers to the senior administrator responsible for campus operations. On some campuses, the actual title of the person in this position is Provost or Director of Operations.

*The President may direct that definitions be amended from time to time to ensure consistency with public policy and community expectations and standards.

Policy Statement

By virtue of membership in the School's academic community, students accept an obligation to conduct themselves as responsible members of that community and to contribute to the creation of a respectful and inclusive environment. This requires the demonstration of mutual respect and civility in academic and professional discourse within an environment in which freedom exists for contrary ideas to be expressed. Conduct that is determined to impair the opportunities of others to learn or that disrupts the orderly functions of the University/School will be deemed misconduct and will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Misconduct for which students are subject to disciplinary action is outlined in the Code of Conduct Procedures document.
